

French Dialogue translation : Terrasse d'une brasserie

Dialogue 1

Hi Simon! How are you?

Simon: I'm fine and you?

Marc: I'm fine, thanks!

Simon: Have you been here long?

Marc: No, I just arrived.

Simon: Did you order?

Marc: No, I was waiting for you. What will you have?

Simon: A small coffee.

Marc: I'll have the same.

Waiter: Hello! What can I get you?

Simon: Two coffees please.

Waiter: Two coffees, I'll be right there.

Marc: I'll have some water too.

Waiter: Still water, sparkling water?

Marc: Sparkling water please.

Waiter: Okay, two coffees and a perrier.

Simon: Thank you!

Dialogue 2

A: Hello sir, what do you need?

B: What kind of beers do you have?

A: On draught we have Carlsberg and Grimbergen blonde or amber. We also have an IPA

B: And in bottle?

A: In bottle we have Duvel and Everest, a white beer.

B: What is Duvel like?

A: It's a pretty strong Belgian beer.

B: I'll have an Everest please.

A: Everest, coming right up.

Dialogue 3

A: Hello ladies and gentlemen! Do you have a reservation?

B: Yes, for two people!

A: Whose name is it?

B: Durand.

A: Yes, very well, do you want to be inside or on the terrace?

B: On the terrace please.

A: Then you can sit here, you will be in the sun!

B: Perfect, thank you!

A: Today's specials are the grilled beef or the small stuffed fish from Nice. You have a menu with a dish of the day, dessert and coffee or a glass of wine.

B: Okay, thank you!

A: I'll let you take a look.
